goddess series & reflection of spirit

The goddess series grew out of personal photographs I had taken for my female friends. I had posed nude for an artist friend and having told them (my female friends) about the humbling experience, they too wanted the same experience.

Without regard to a specific goddess or spirit, I photographed friends and family either nude or seminude in natural environments, such as the ocean, a national park, or my backyard.

My intent was to create photographic images that expressed a reverence for Nature and Her laws. My understanding was that once these images were printed, it would be obvious for whom these images were for – goddess, spirit, or element.

Thus far, the goddess series consist of seven images: Agua Dulce, Venus, Sister Angel, Offering, Yemaya's Child, Forest Nymph (image not available) and para Yemaya. Inspired by this series is 'reflection of spirit'; photographic images which express an inner spiritual mood or experience. This body of work is still in progress, only three images exist, and only one – Seyni – is available for viewing.
